

FOCH COMFORTS DISABLED YANKS AND OFFERS AID

Attends Dedication of Hines Memorial.

The dedication of the former Speedway hospital at Maywood to bear the name of the late Edward Hines, which took place yesterday afternoon, was one of the most impressive of the many ceremonies dignified by the presence in Chicago of Marshal Foch.

The marshal's party went to Maywood by special train and was conducted from the depot to the administration building by an escort of marines and a reception committee headed by Edward Hines. The marshal was cheered by several thousand persons as he alighted, saluted the colors, and led the procession into a room on the first floor where the ceremonies took place.

The marshal stepped forward and placed a golden cord, unrolling a large scroll in front of young Hines, who died while serving with the army in France. Two flags, the French tricolor and the American flag, were draped on the casket.

Margaret Anglin Recites.

As the flag fell away, disclosing the portrait of the late Edward Hines, Miss Margaret Anglin dramatically recited in French a poem written by Jules Bois after another poem by Yvonne Lindsay.

The party then went to the flag-draped casket outside where State Commander W. R. McCauley, of the American Legion, was in charge of the ceremony. The benediction was pronounced by Father O'Donnell, chaplain of the 2d regiment, and Commander McCauley made a brief address in which he paid tribute to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt and young Hines.

Handed MacNider, newly elected national commander of the American Legion, delivered a brief address in which he declared the legion, 1,000,000 strong, was proud to welcome "the first soldier of the world."

Senator Medill McCormick also spoke in praise of the doctrines of Marshal Foch and expressed the hope that this great "monument of mercy," the Edward Hines Jr. Memorial hospital, would serve to awaken in the American people a "renewed consciousness of their obligations" to those who had sacrificed their health and usefulness in the war.

Drop Flowers from Sky.

Aviators flew over the crowds during the speaking and one of them dropped a huge shower of flowers for Mrs. Hines.

"And now I am going to have the honor—one of the greatest honors that has ever come to an enlisted man," said Commander McCauley, "and that is that I, a buck private, am going to present to you the commander in chief of the allied armies, Ferdinand Foch."

It was explained that the marshal was so fatigued from his many appearances in Chicago that he would not speak, but he stood for several minutes while the throngs cheered and waved hats and handkerchiefs. He was then conducted on a tour of inspection of the hospital.

He walked between the beds where the helpless veterans, patted them on the head, and spoke a few words of comfort in French, translated by an interpreter.

Foch Recognizes War Nurse.

"The marshal wishes to say he is glad to be with you," said the interpreter, "and he remembers the days he spent with you on the other side. When he called on you for something then you did it and; if there is anything he can do for you now, he will do it."

Before leaving, Foch greeted Chief Nurse Mona Charles, whom he had met in Chalons.

"You are doing a most noble work"

CHICAGO'S OVATION TO A MARSHAL OF FRANCE

Michigan avenue was a mass of humanity yesterday when thousands of members of the Knights of Columbus, acting as hosts to Marshal Foch, marched past the reviewing stand and paid their respects to the visitor. It was declared to be one of the largest parades ever seen on the boulevard.

LOYOLA HONORS FOCH

It was in Jesuit institutions in France that Ferdinand Foch received his early and collegiate education. Yesterday Loyola university, conducted by the Jesuits, honored the distinguished visitor with the degree of doctor of laws.

The ceremony was the first event of his busy day yesterday. From the Arthur Meeker home, where he has been entertained during his Chicago stay, Foch was driven to the university at Loyola avenue and Sheridan road and on the campus the degree was conferred by the Rev. William J. Agnew, rector of the university.

In his address of welcome, the Rev. J. Betchel, S. J., a native of Alsacia, proclaimed Foch as the savior of Alsace and Lorraine, and also took occasion to pay high tribute to the devoction to the church which has characterized the life of the French war chief at all times.

Through Gets Close Up View.

Nearly 2,000 graduates and students of Loyola were present at the ceremony and as many more persons from the north shore suburbs were there and the assemblage had, perhaps, the most intimate glimpse of Marshal Foch received during his visit here.

For fifteen minutes during Father Betchel's address Foch stood in rapt attention surrounded by the audience, and after the ceremony was over, he brushed shoulders with hundreds.

American women are backing the administration in its search for international agreements that will make possible a reduction of armaments.

Edward Sherman, former treasurer of the American Relief association, has been appointed Chicago regional director for President Harding's unemployment conference.

War Finance corporation has loaned $22,463,000 to farmers and cattlemen in nineteen states in last seventy-five days.

With speeches limited to ten minutes on each amendment, beginning tomorrow morning, senate leaders are hopeful that the long drawn out consideration of the tax bill can be brought to an end by tomorrow night.

FEARS RUIN OF GERMANY UNLESS U. S. OPENS PURSE

War Debts Moratorium Is Urged in Berlin.

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, who has held the post of finance minister, discusses the German economic situation in the Tagblatt, and outlines a plan which, he declares, is the only way to save Germany from financial ruin and "the rest of the world from wage slavery and business instability."

His plan embraces the following points: First—That the United States grant the entente powers additional time on its credits and advance loans to the central powers for the purchase of raw materials.

Second—The declaration of a ten year moratorium on German reparations.

Third—Arrangement of Germany's internal financial problems.

The stabilization of the mark is impossible, says Dr. Dernburg, long as "reparations are being paid by printing presses." He estimates that taxes in Germany amount to 22,000 marks yearly per family, of which $600 is for internal expenses.

Hold Up Industrial Credits.

The plan providing that German industrial concerns come to the assist-

EVANSTON WOMAN'S CLUB PUTS BAN ON JAZZ DANCE MUSIC

Jazz music has been officially disapproved by the board of directors of the Woman's Club of Evanston as the result of an address given last Thursday afternoon at the club by Mrs. M. Oberndorfer, chairman of the music committee of the General Federation of Women's Clubs of America.

This was admitted yesterday when it became known that Benson's orchestra has been ordered by Mrs. Robert

Berry Ennis, president of the club, not to play jazz music at the evening party to be given by the club Nov. 26. This is the first of a series of parties to be given for club members.

Mrs. Oberndorfer's vigorous attack upon jazz music was made before several hundred Northwestern university co-eds and members of the woman's club.

ance of the government by placing their foreign credits at its disposal is still held in abeyance.

At a meeting yesterday of the League of German Industrialists a resolution was proposed in favor of the plan, provided the government agrees to adopt a policy of rigid economy and shows willingness to consult private enterprises in formulating its economic and tax program. Another provision included in the resolution was that the government declare its willingness to accept the counsel of foreign financial experts in regard to the amount of credit to be floated, as well as its relation to the prevailing fluctuations of foreign exchange.

Would Halt Reparations.

In the sharp debate on the resolution Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, director of the Krupp works, and Herr Silverberg, an operator of lignite coal fields, contended that a gold credit of 1,000,000,000 marks, which was the maximum proposed to be expected from the foreign credits, would be insufficient to meet the present needs of the government.

Both advocated that Germany make an unequivocal declaration that she is no longer able to meet the obligation imposed by the reparations terms.

The league intends to ask Rudolf Havenstein, president of the reichsbank, to discuss before it the state of the national finances and his recent trip to London in regard to reparations, before making a decision.

FRANCE OPENS CAMPAIGN TO SELL MORE WINE

PARIS, Nov. 6.—[United News.]—Far from favoring prohibition, the French government, while opposing "the scourge of alcoholism," is interested in finding new markets and improving the old markets for many French wines which heretofore have had little exploitation outside of France.

President Millerand, addressing a banquet of the general council of the Department of Herault, a famous wine country, said:

"We must conquer wider markets for ordinary wines and thereby create a demand for the famous marks. Alcoholism is a scourge which I have unceasingly combatted, but it is an error to charge wine with misdeeds of which it is innocent. The government considers it an honor to favor this propaganda destined to serve the interests of truth."

The president announced also that the government would launch a "national wine week."

IN 131 YEARS U. S. HAS SPENT 80% OF OUTGO ON SCRAPS

Boston, Mass., Nov. 6.—The World Peace Foundation in a statement tonight gave figures compiled from reports of the secretary of the treasury, which, it said, showed that the United States government in the 131 years of its existence under the constitution, had spent nearly four-fifths of its total ordinary disbursements on war or things relating to war.

Tables prepared by the foundation showed total ordinary disbursements from 1789 to 1920 of $68,728,208,409, of which the war items amounted to $52,607,489,927, or 78.5 per cent. The war items were classified as follows:

War department, $24,294,476,872; navy department, $7,653,056,851; pensions, $5,876,021,640; interest on public debts, $5,233,615,199; special disbursements, 1917-1920, $9,550,509,599.

ULSTER PAUSES AT SELF-RULE UNDER DUBLIN

All-Irish Dominion Depends on Reply.

By JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, Nov. 6.—Complete confusion over the Irish situation apparently exists in the London Sunday newspapers today. Some of the Tory newspapers announced the existence of an acute Irish crisis, while the Liberal newspapers say the Irish problem is as good as solved.

The truth is somewhere between these two extremes. That the crisis is not acute is shown by the fact Prime Minister David Lloyd George, after cancelling his intended week-end visit to Chequers in order to meet Sir James Craig, prime minister of Ulster, yesterday went to Chequers this morning.

Craig Proves Stubborn.
Craig proved rather more stubborn than was expected. Great Britain and the Sinn Fein, as called, have practically agreed on a settlement based on all Ireland dominion with Ulster as a subordinate autonomous province.

Craig shows great hesitation in accepting this, declaring Ulster's preference is to remain directly under the Westminster parliament.

Much significance is attached by the London Tory press today to the summing of Sir Laming Worthington Evans, war minister, to yesterday's conference with Craig.

Unity of Coalition.
However, it appears Evans and Sir Robert Horne, who also was called in, were summoned to represent the rank and file of the Tory element of the coalition. The purpose was to inform Craig all elements of the coalition party were solidly behind Mr. Lloyd George's scheme of settlement.

Great Britain and southern Ireland are agreed in principle, but Ulster has the power to make or wreck the final settlement.

Messrs. Collins, Gavan, and Duffy, the Irish envoys, who went to Dublin for the week-end, will return tomorrow night after conferring with Eamon de Valera and other Irish leaders. There can therefore be no meeting either of the full Irish conference or of the "big four" before Tuesday.

Reports to Belfast.

Sir James Craig said today there could be no development from his corner of the ring before tomorrow at the earliest. It is said he sent a full report of his conversation with the premier to his colleagues in Belfast and is awaiting their reply before taking further action.

H. M. Pollock, Ulster's minister of finance, and Lord Londonderry, the Ulster minister of education, are expected in London in a day or two. Sir Hugh O'Neill, speaker of the Ulster parliament, and Thomas Moles, Ulster speaker, already are in London in that with the arrival of Mr. Pollock and Lord Londonderry, Craig will have one of the influential Ulster leaders at hand for consultation.

THEATER SAFE IS ROBBERED.
Omaha, Neb., Nov. 6.—While Lee Carroll, gunman at the Liberty theater, was assisting the cashier to deposit the day's receipts, about $1,500, in the safe of the building late last night, a man stepped from behind a curtain which partly hides the safe, struck Carroll over the head with some heavy instrument, grabbed the money, and entering on standing by a side door, sped away.

ROMANCE

MARILYN MILLER.

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Marilyn Miller is engaged to Jack Pickford, as reported, they may have to wait four years before they can marry. And all because a manager wrote into her contract a clause that forbids matrimony.

Miss Miller, in signing the contract for the musical comedy "Sally" a year ago, agreed that she would not marry for five years, it became known today.

More than once Dan Cupid has upset the plans of theatrical managers by luring stage beauties from the footlights. Flo Ziegfeld Jr. decided to protect himself against such encroachment, and he did—or thinks he did—for "his" said that the legality of the anti-matrimony clause is doubtful. No less an authority on theatrical contracts than Attorney Francis McGarvey tonight declared that in his belief the stipulation forbidding marriage is "against public policy, and would be so held in court."

IRISH RADICALS BUY GUNS WITH U. S. GOLD, CLAIM

Berlin Bares Details of Plot Against Peace.

By GEORGE SELDES.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
BERLIN, Nov. 6.—Irish-Americans, backed by American money, were the leading plotters in the gun smuggling recently revealed to Great Britain by the German government, according to statements made by German foreign office officials today. They based their statements on an investigation which they have been making in Germany and at Danzig, now a free state.

The Wilhelmstrasse officials emphasized the fact that Germany was in no way involved in the plot by which Irish radicals sought arms with which to oppose the peace with Great Britain which Eamon de Valera's Sinn Fein envoys are believed to be about ready to conclude.

The deal was made by the Irish radicals and their Irish-American agents, the officials stated, with citizens of Danzig or Poland. While the cargo of rifles, cannon, and other munitions landed at Trales bay in Ireland represented former German war material, it had become Polish or Danzigian owned through the treaty of Versailles and subsequent orders by the league of nations.

First information of the gun running plot of the Irish radicals reached the German government through a raid on a ship that put in at Hamburg. A cargo of arms destined for Ireland was discovered and seized.

The German government notified the interallied disarmament commission, which informed Prime Minister Lloyd George. By this act the German government felt it had washed its hands of the plot.

Recently, however, German officials discovered certain Irish-Americans and German agents were searching Germany for officers who had gained experience as Irish gun-runners during the world war. Several of these men were hired and directed to report at Danzig, where Irish-Americans were reported to have purchased the Disposable, a ship flying the flag of Holland.

"War Criminal" Aids Smugglers.
When information that the ship had sailed from Danzig with a cargo of munitions reached Berlin, a report from the Danzig government was asked. The British government was also notified.

Among the officers of the gun running ship there is said to be a former German submarine captain whose name appears on the list of war criminals. This officer has been reported as living abroad since the armistice, but is now believed to be either in Ireland or Germany. Should he be apprehended, Germany, it was stated, is prepared to try him as a war criminal.

JAPAN'S ELDER STATESMEN PICK NEW PREMIER

Baron Den, Bureaucrat, May Get Place.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
TOKIO, Nov. 6.—Prince Saloni and Marquis Matsukata, members of the council of the elder statesmen to whom the mikado and his advisers look for guidance in all great national crises, have arrived in Tokyo for a conference tonight in the imperial palace in the course of which the emperor will be advised by the council of the elder statesmen.

Tokio railway station. Field Marshal Prince Yamagata, another of the elder statesmen, is ill and he will be consulted at his home after the conference here.

Until Prince Yamagata, who is a member of the military council, approves the decisions of the other elder statesmen it is not believed any announcement as to the formation of a new cabinet will be made.

Meanwhile an arbitrary censorship prevails. Nervousness pervades official circles owing to the tremendous stakes Japan must play for at Washington. The masses are restless.

Success Depends on New Premier.

Success or failure of Japan's program at Washington hangs largely on the choice of the new premier. Early selection is urgent, not only on account of the armament conference in Washington but also because the new premier must submit the new budget, together with a new cabinet.

The new premier must have first qualifications above all else. First, approval of the elder statesmen; second, ability to control the house of peers, and, third, ability to swing the house of representatives.

In all Japan only five men possess these qualifications: Admiral Baron Saito, governor general of Korea;

Baron Den, governor general of Formosa; Admiral Count Yamamoto, prime minister in 1917; Viscount Makino, minister of the imperial household; and Baron Goto, mayor of Tokyo.

Baron Den in the Lead.

Official circles seem confident that the new premier will be Baron Den, although he is not a member of the Seiyukai party, the majority in the house, but is a member of the purely bureaucratic group. He was minister of communications in the Terauchi ministry. He has made a good record in Formosa. Admiral Yamamoto is likely to be eliminated because he was compelled to evacuate the premiership before because of the navy scandals. Viscount Makino is expected to be unavailable on account of his present position in the imperial household, where conditions are critical because of the incapacity of the mikado and require a strong hand due to the growing democracy of the crown prince.

Baron Den is a member of the communications in the Okuma cabinet, is believed to be eliminated, owing to the absence of a favorable candidate as his successor for the Tokyo mayoralty.

This leaves only Baron Saito, who in two years of his regime has done so much to undo the military wrongs in Korea. He is making such headway in harmonizing Korean sentiment by gradual elimination of the iron heel that the removal of him from that post during this crucial period of unrest among all subject peoples is much doubted.

The time honored method of selecting the premier of Japan is as follows: The elder statesmen are summoned to the royal palace, where the name of the person to be selected is submitted. He, being unable to meet the qualifications, will decline on account of ill health. The invitation will be extended to others down the list of honor, all of whom will decline for similar reasons, until the real eligibles are reached.

According to officials, there is one bare possibility of a breaking of precedent. Prince Saloni might accept the premiership as a matter of form, merely to mark time until the return from Washington of Admiral Baron Kato, minister of navy, who also is supposed to meet the requirements, but who is opposed by the Chosui clan. Since Admiral Kato is so urgently needed in Washington to insure the success of Japan's plans, and since it equally is imperative that an active premier take hold of the reins here, owing to the critical stage of the budget, the choice is said to lie between Admiral Saito and Baron Den, with chances favoring the latter. The selection of Den will lead to the formation, it is believed, of a powerful bureaucratic government.

Policy at Parley Unchanged.

In any case, the policies of the Japanese government at Washington will not be affected.

In a statement to THE TRIBUNE Count Uchida, acting premier, said:

"Japan's course of action on all the subjects at Washington will be the same as if Hara lived and still directed. The new cabinet will be formed in due time, and meanwhile the policy of Hara will be continued. Japan's national policy was adopted after deliberations based on the national interest and backed by popular will. Therefore it is incomprehensible that the policy should change with the death of any man."

Hara's political party leaders have decided on a Buddhist funeral of the simplest kind, without guard of honor, which will be in accordance with the known wishes of the slain premier.

Seize Many Newspapers.

The assassin of the premier left a letter explaining his action. This reached the newspapers, but publication was forbidden by the police.

The majority of the vernacular newspapers this morning defied the prohibition. Their papers were all seized before they could be distributed, with the result that millions were without news until later in the day.

NEW ELECTIONS FOR PORTUGAL.
LISBON, Nov. 6.—President Almeida signed a decree today dissolving parliament. Elections have been fixed for Dec. 11.

CHINA SILENT AS IT DEFAULTS CHICAGO LOAN

New Finance Chief Will Fight High Interest.

BY DONALD PATTERSON.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune.)

PEKING, Nov. 6.—China is now several days in default on the big loan made to it by the Continental and Commercial National bank of Chicago, but no statement has been issued by the government as to what it intends to do. No funds are coming into the government treasury from any source.

Pan Yu, vice minister of finance, and Niv Chan Shai, second vice finance minister, are expected to resign immediately. The former will probably also resign as head of the government salt monopoly.

Objects to High Interest.

Kao Ling Wei has taken up the duties of finance minister. He has made no official statement, but he is known to consider that the high rates of interest and discounts which have been paid by China on recent loans are unjustified. It is stated that he proposes to consolidate the various loans.

The Chinese government's failure to accept the terms for a loan recently offered by an American group of bankers is said to be due to a disinclination on the part of the Chinese to agree that $1,000,000 of the loan shall go toward the payment of interest on the German Hukuang bonds, pledged in the United States. The government is said to be waiting for a complete settlement of its war claims against Germany before taking action concerning these bonds.

NEW SPLIT IN CHINA

PEKING, Nov. 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—Gen. Wu Pei-fu of the north China forces has informed the government that he has 100,000 troops in the Yangtze valley, including 50,000 veterans. He says only three successful campaigns will be adequate for preventing an invasion by the southern forces, and that therefore the reinforcements promised by Gen. Chang Tso-lin, the northern military leader, will not be needed. He says he will not attack unless the forces of Dr. Sun Yat-sen invade northern territory.

Gen. Wu Pei-fu's message is looked upon here as a new development in the friction which has been developing gradually between the two principal political factions in both north and south China. According to information given out at the foreign office, Gen. Wu Pei-fu and Gen. Tsoo-kun, leaders of the Chih Li faction, are said to have maneuvered to a favorable position to oust Gen. Chang Tsoo-lin as the dominant factor in the north. Meanwhile Dr. Sun Yat-sen, head of the Canton government, and Gen. Chen Chung-min, the principal south China military leader, have had disagreements culminating in refusal by the latter to participate in Dr. Sun's invasion of northern China.

This has resulted in an apparent rapprochement, making the principal cleavage, not between the north and the south, as in the past, but between two parties, each including northern and southern elements.

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM FOR CHICAGO

1—Build the Subway Now.

BEHIND JAPAN'S ASSURANCES.

From a group of twenty-three Japanese financial and industrial leaders, guests of the Chicago Association of Commerce last week, came renewed assurances of Japan's sincerity in entering the coming Washington conference to reduce armaments. Such assurances are pleasant. There is danger that they may even be soporific. We must guard against that. We cannot afford to enter the conference with our delegates and the public opinion behind them lulled to sleep by such assurances.

There were indications of danger in the addresses of the Japanese, as, for instance, advocacy of the repeal of the Jones bill, which defines American policy and prepares for eventual independence of the Philippines. The Tribune has repeatedly expressed the opinion that the Philippines as at present constituted are the Achilles heel of the United States in relations with Japan; that they are a hostage in the orient for our good behavior and a responsibility from which we get little but danger of war. And now prominent Japanese confirm our fear by suggesting a line of conduct for us with reference to the islands, which, presumably, would clear the way for advancing Japanese interests. It is a reflection of Japan's aggressive attitude.

This attitude toward the United States has long been in evidence. It has been most unpleasant in California. When that state sought to restrict Japanese penetration in 1907 Japan protested and forced us to back down to the "gentlemen's agreement." When the Japanese expansion continued, despite this agreement, and California sought to bar the aliens from the land, Wilson and Bryan forced more concessions to them.

Recently the Japanese have protested strongly against American fortification of the Philippines and Guam, and have even questioned our good faith, if not our right, to fortify the Hawaiian Islands, the natural outpost in the defense of our entire Pacific coast. It appears to us that they are becoming unpleasantly dictatorial, in contrast to their assurances of friendship and love of peace. Any nation can love peace if peace means easier acquisition of all the territory and rights and powers which its ambition induces.

But these territories were acquired by the United States before Japan became one of the great powers. At the same time the Japanese were acquiring territory by conquest. They have as much right to tell us not to fortify Pearl Harbor as we have to tell them not to fortify Formosa, and such a thought has never entered our heads.

They assure us of a conciliatory attitude, and at the same time suggest our withdrawal. "Here's your hat; what's your hurry?" In one breath they tell us that "the Japanese delegation in Washington has the whole of Japan behind it in the effort to come to some formula for limitation of armaments," and in the next breath admit that if Viscount Takaaki Kato succeeds the assassinated Premier Hara he will favor an aggressive attitude in China, Korea, and Siberia, and "it would change the policy of the Japanese delegation."

With such revelations of Japanese character, ambitions, and methods it behooves the American delegates at the conference to be wide awake.

SUGGESTING, ALSO, THE CASE OF THE PARROT.

Our ambassador at St. James, though a notable sabbre in political controversy, cannot, with entire frankness, be praised for his tact. The assumption is natural, therefore, that his choice of this moment to assert that Americans never, never shall be slaves to a foreign entanglement is his own inspiration rather than that of the state department or the President.

Ambassador Harvey's countrymen will wonder why their representative in England should think it necessary to make this somewhat superfluous announcement at this time. They will ask themselves why there should be any doubt in England or elsewhere that the present government will stand by the dictum of Washington and Jefferson and decline to make "permanent alliances" in Europe. So far as we can see, the administration has done nothing to cause hope or fear that we may give up our traditional policy.

This being the case, it would seem to us more dignified for our representative to let the matter go as it lies, lest we resemble the player queen in "Hamlet" and "protest too much."

A gift for pungent expression has betrayed more than one man in public life, and we trust Mr. Harvey will not compel his chief to address him from the quarter deck in the words of the whaling captain in his mate: "What we want from you, Mr. Harvey, is silence, and damn little of that."

WE ASK DEMPSEY.

Ring Lardner has an amusing story in last week's Saturday Evening Post. He calls it "The Battle of the Century." There may be considerably less fiction in it than there is in Prescott's "Conquest of Mexico" or Wells' "Outline of History." It may be the inside story of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight. Jim Dugan is Dempsey. Goulet is Carpenter. etc., etc., anyway, made Ring Lardner think he was improving on the matter.

As action he presents the following as fact: Dempsey and his manager did not make enough money out of the Willard fight to pay for a Chinaman's personal injury. They did not get far for glory. They wanted coin. There was no one to fight for coin, because there was no one in the game who could be built up to draw a gate.

Carpenter knocked Joe Beckett silly in seventeen seconds, and Dempsey's manager saw that the champion of Europe could be built up. He was built up, although Dempsey thought it was murder and wanted to know why they didn't put Benny Leonard in the ring with him. That at least would keep the $200,000 guarantee to the loser at home in America instead of sending it abroad. The preliminaries were built up. Carpenter was built up. Tex Rickard was built up, the New Jersey arena was built up, and the gate was built up. The main thing, the Dempsey bank roll, was built up.

All these were man-made buildings. Nature built up something which Dempsey and his manager might see in daylight even if it were invisible in the dark. Its name is Willa, profession the same as Jack's, price fighter; object the same, to fight and make money; race different. He is black, but he is good. The Dempsey management need not worry about the gate for this fight. It will be good, better than they can build up for the gate for the cohesiveness, Willard.

The only reason Kearns hesitates is for fear he'll lose his meal ticket.

POLITICS AND SUBWAY FUNDS.

Car users have paid $30,108,000 for a subway. Once a day, twice a day, or more times a day they have paid a fraction of a cent out of their pockets, and this, done month after month, and year after year for fourteen years, runs into money—$30,108,000, enough for a subway system.

There is evident reluctance in the city hall to use the money for the purpose for which it was collected. The aldermen have started, but the initiative was not in the city administration, and from time to time an administration spokesman drops a cinder into the oil.

Generally a city administration likes to spend money. The Thompson administration has asked for many bond issues for public improvements. Cash which can be spent thus is regarded as a political benefit.

The subway is the most needed public benefit. The money for it has been collected. There is no city hall enthusiasm for spending it on a subway.

The subway fund, with other trust funds of the city, is used in two ways. It is either borrowed by the city on its own tax anticipation warrants and other paper or it is loaned to the banks. The banks have paid 2 per cent, 3, and 3-1/2 per cent interest when the discount rate was 6, 7, and 8.

It is a valuable piece of business for a bank to get several millions of the subway fund at a low rate of interest and loan it out at the prevailing rates. City hall politicians themselves go to the banks for accommodations and the banks can take their paper. The relation between the favor granted a bank by city hall politicians in obtaining for that bank a part of the subway fund and the politicians in carrying loans is at least suggested.

If the subway fund were used for the purpose for which it was collected and for which it is needed, many millions of dollars would be taken away from political investment. The privilege of using the money in construction may not be as alluring to city hall politicians as the privilege of using it in investment.

Whatever is the reason for the reluctance to make the ordained use of the money paid by the car users, that reluctance is apparent and it may be made more apparent. It is injudicious to offer direct opposition because the street car conditions are so bad, the effects upon the street car users so injurious, and upon the city so hurtful. But indirect opposition is possible and it all tends to keep the fund in its present condition and to keep the traction issue politically befogged. Politics wants street cars as an issue six years from now.

The car users will get nothing out of that and they have paid for comfort, rapid transit, and have made a 5 cent fare possible.

ON THE ROAD TO NORMALCY.

One million idle men have found work in the United States in the last month, according to government reports prepared for the permanent committee on unemployment. Unemployment now involves only approximately 2,000,000 workers, according to the same authority. That is good news for America. It proves the optimism recently expressed by national leaders of business and finance to be based upon facts rather than upon hopes.

A very discrepancy which can be found in the figures compared with those of a month or two ago is optimistic. At the height of unemployment some authorities estimated that as many as 5,500,000 men were out of work in this country.

Figures more carefully prepared for the recent unemployment conference in Washington reduced that total to 4,000,000. That indicates that we imagined the situation to be worse than it was. But still if we admit 1,000,000 have got jobs and that that leaves only 2,000,000 unemployed, it would seem that we are now underestimating the unemployed of two months ago by as great a margin as we then overestimated them. That is optimism, but it is constructive optimism.

If 1,000,000 more men are now at work than were at work two months ago it is because there is greater demand for their services and the commodities which they produce. If we are overestimating the improvement it shows a rise in business confidence which will open more mills and factories, develop more public works and private production, and increase purchasing power to support this confidence. That is what we need.

It indicates a stabilization of wages, an adjustment to a new level of costs, and a willingness to give a day's work for a day's pay and 2,000 pounds for a ton of commodities, which will work together for sound prosperity. We are not yet out of the slough of depression, and we still face a hard winter, but the indications are that we have found the trail to lead us to solid ground.

Editorial of the Day

THE ELECTRICAL AGE.

[Vancouver Sun.]

After thirty years of experimenting electricians with the General Electric company have succeeded in transmitting a 4,000,000 volt electrical current over a wire.

This draws the age of electricity one step closer. Electricity is the natural power. It is drawn from the earth and the air. The day will come when all the earth and the air will be dependent upon electricity. Trains will run from Montreal to Vancouver on power generated, perhaps, in Winnipeg; ships will sail from Vancouver to the orient impelled by electricity generated from huge power stations in British Columbia and transmitted by radio waves. Whole cities will be heated by one central electric plant.

A few more discoveries like the one recorded above and electricity will be the cheapest and only common source of power. Long before the world's supply of coal and oil give out these fuels will be discarded as costly, clumsy, and impractical.

This, of course, may be a few hundred years from now. But the fact serves to emphasize the folly of conserving and hoarding coal and oil deposits. The time to put coal and oil on the market is now, while they are in the heyday of their usefulness.

TO HOMER, PORT ETERNAL.

They said, O Grecian bard, that you were blind. But they were wrong who spread that foolish tale. Your eyes saw not the things that were before them. Could you have viewed as freely as the wind Your vision scanned the utmost bounds of earth; Time's bulwarks fell before your magic gaze And lo! you glimpsed all life. These latest days Applaud you: seven cities claim your birth, O Bard, a thousand cities hold you dear. Your reach is as the goings of the sun, Which scorches no distant nook. Your course shall run Still on and on, until the last dim year When man shall be no more, then time shall be A scroll rolled up, and lost eternally.

AT 10 o'clock last night, the end of the twenty-four hour stage, James located Foch, who had retreated to the Pullman of his Detroit-bound train, and obtained the following statement: "My center is giving way; my right is paralyzed. I shall retire."

ONE suspects the prismatic but pessimistic Mr. Wells cherishes sentiments akin to those of the Spanish galley captain: "Lord, life is a tangled knot to unravel." His first article on the state of affairs of this world is more in the nature of a coroner's report than a critique. One paragraph is particularly interesting: "... we can at least school ourselves to the resolve to be charitable... to be forgiving, delectable..." It seems rather quaintly singular that all our English cousins right at this time are advocating (in the U. S.) a policy of, as 'twere, unremitting kindness.

IN this era of standardization and speed, a renaissance in the art of newspapering is essential if editors hope to keep abreast the times. The mind of the ennuied intelligencia recoils at the precious space squandered on stereotyped matters, such as parades, divorces, congresses, theaters, music, movies, sports, book reviews, columns, etc. Why not write by column? In the ceremonies of yesterday, the story would of course be captioned: "Foch Payside." Then, "22-11-43-TSL-P. C. Sears Roebuck—forward pass—xyz." A thousand words compressed into a couple of lines. Decoded the 22 would mean, "The impressive parade was led by a squad of mounted policemen, followed by a band, the city firemen, the honored guest, the mayor and other city officials. The police had to keep the crowds back." And so on down to xyz, which would of course convey to the reader that the parade ended with a float of the cigar makers' union.

FOR no reason whatever we reread Anatole's Honey-Bee yesterday. You will recall that the professor is a man of letters. I must beg very serious persons not to read this. It is not written for the masses. It is not written for grave people who despise trifles and who always require to be instructed. It was soon after the day they made the mud pies that George and Honey-Bee climbed to the top of the tower of the Castle of Clarides and discovered: "Little sister," cried George, "little sister, look at the world wide world." "The world is very big," said Honey-Bee, "and my teachers," said George, "have taught me that it is very big; but as Gertrude, our housekeeper, says, one must see to believe." The world has shrunk considerably since that day on the tower of the Castle of Clarides. At least there doesn't seem to be enough room for it now for the Chinese, the Japanese, and the U. S.

THYROID AND PROGRESS.
ALL on the human animal to meet a great emergency and he will fail unless somewhere something spurs him on.
Just as no jockey would ride a race without spurs and whip, no directing agency would start a human being in a race and expect anything if no spurs were available.
Nature provides the spurs. They are called the thyroid gland and the neck is the location. In periods of great strain this gland is called to do so much work that it is infrequently enlarged. It is for this reason that thyroid enlargement frequently occurs during fetal life, during the years of puberty and adolescence, during pregnancy, as a result of mental work or violent emotional storm, and as the result of sore throat or some other infection.

But not all people or animals other than man get this enlargement as the result of great strain. What is the reason? People differ. Some stand up under stress better than others. But that is a conclusion itself and at best is only a partial answer.
In further explanation it is said that if the thyroid can get all the iodine it needs it produces all the thyroid secretion needed for spurring without harm to itself, but if the supply of iodine is short, if it must "make bricks without straw," it enlarges or otherwise shows signs of disease.
Aiding upon this theory, it is proposed to give a very small dose of iodine to people passing through periods of great stress. Carrying out this theory, a little iodine should be given to pregnant women to spur themselves and their babies to add to the development of the subject to frequent sore throats, and to those passing through periods of great worry and emotional strain.
The list of those who should take it is further limited. It should not be given to people near salt water. They get enough from the air, the spray, and from sea food. Since girls are six times as prone as boys to develop goiters, it may not be necessary to give it to boys.

Up to now the lines of people who have been benefited by iodine as a preventive and cure for goiter are certain. The school children. The amount given is very small. Drs. Marine and Kimball now advise about two grains of iodine each day for two days out of each week one month. This is given twice a year—during the spring and autumn. In time it may be found that the dose can be made smaller still with equal benefit.

In one Swiss experiment the prevalence of goiter was reduced 50 per cent. by the use of iodine. It is a simple matter to give a small dose of iodine to people passing through periods of great stress. Carrying out this theory, a little iodine should be given to pregnant women to spur themselves and their babies to add to the development of the subject to frequent sore throats, and to those passing through periods of great worry and emotional strain.

BLOOD PRESSURE.
S. C. writes: "I have caused high blood pressure 2. What causes low blood pressure? 3. What causes low temperature of an average below 98°? 4. Where can a book dealing with high and low blood pressure be obtained?"

REPLY.
1. Constipation, overeating, worry, fear, emotions. These are among the causes.
2. Laxative, lack of pep, lack of enthusiasm, want of energy.
3. Possibly the same answer to 2.
4. Faust's "Blood Pressure Primer" is written in simple language.

BY ALL MEANS BUILD THE SUBWAY NOW.
Chicago, Nov. 4.—Chicago will have identically the same experience as New York. New Yorkers first wondered how they ever got along without the grip cars, then the electric cars, then the L roads, and now they cannot imagine how they ever existed without the subways, and they are still building them.

What I want to know is why they don't begin subway construction now. Are the politicians holding back this necessary municipal project because we furnish them free automobiles? Don't they remember when they were poor? Why have any more expensive elections? What's the use of ordinary citizens casting their ballots? Hall Chicago? For what?

J. L. BURNETT.

Palmyra, Wis., Oct. 24.—It is an old saying, "Consistency is a jewel." It seems to me your editorial columns are not always long on consistency.

Your Oct. 20 editorial, "To Big Business," to the big business men of Chicago, is a masterpiece of logic and reason. Those who have inherited wealth and those who have acquired it by their own efforts are both entitled to the same respect and the same consideration. The difference between them is not in their wealth, but in their character.

What Are Kryptoks For?

Kryptoks are for people who need two kinds of glasses; one for reading and one for distance.

KRYPTOKS combine both in one pair, efficient for all purposes. The upper part of the lens is ground for distance vision; the lower part for reading.

We specialize in Kryptoks, in preference to other bifocals, because we know Kryptoks are the best. There is no seam, line or hump in Kryptok lenses to reveal their double purpose; no line between the two fields of vision.

WIDOWS GONE; BLUEBEARD TO BE TRIED TODAY

French Police Baffled by Landru.

BY HUDSON HAWLEY.

(United News Staff Correspondent.)
PARIS, Nov. 6.—Landru, the alleged murderer of his wife, Marie, and her sister, Suzanne, is to be tried today for the murder of his wife, Marie, and her sister, Suzanne.

Landru has not weakened. When the French police visited him today to submit the list of jurors, the modern murderer took the paper from him and said: "You should not discuss the matter on Sunday for a matter of little importance."

Landru's "dossier" against Landru is a dossier of charges. The dossier is in the Versailles courthouse in order, including the stove in his villa at Cambrai in which he is alleged to have burned the bodies of the missing women. To this Landru's response always has been a contemptuous "Bah! They are the bones of chickens which the police found in the stove."

Landru is the most baffling prisoner in French judicial history. His repartees with examining magistrates has been a source of amusement to the public.

Landru is a man of a diabolically cool and calm. For two years he has been the subject of concert songs and operas. He receives more letters than a movie star.

NEW SUBMARINE POWER COMBINES GAS, ELECTRICITY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—A new type of submarine motive plant, comprising a combination of gas and electric propulsion, will be installed in the three American submarines of the V type, two of which have just been laid down at the Portsmouth [N. H.] navy yard.

Naval engineers are said to be watching construction with great interest because of their expectation of improved operation of submersible war craft to result with the new installation. A cruising radius of 10,000 miles is said to be one possibility.

Latest Engineering Genius.
The latest submarines are to be 2,925 ton boats, measuring 200 feet in length and equipped with electric engines of 6,500 horse power. They are designed for a surface speed of twenty-one knots and a submerged speed of from nine to ten knots. The power plant will combine the latest engineering developments resulting from experiments conducted on the naval collier Jupiter, near the aircraft carrier Langley. The two main engines, set well astern, of 2,050 horse power each, are of the six cylinder type, and are connected with two motor generators which will drive two propellers. Two engines of the same type, of 1,000 horse power each, are located forward and are connected directly with the generators, which, through two rear electric motors, will drive the submarine at an economical surface cruising speed of eleven knots.

How It Runs Under Water.
By combining the main and forward plants a maximum of 6,500 horse power will be obtained. When under water the submarines will be driven by the aft motors from batteries and no gas engines will be run.
It is estimated, by submarine experts that these vessels will be able to operate for a month away from their bases or tenders.

The crew will include four officers and about fifty men, an increase of twenty men over present underwater craft.
When completed in 1923 the new submarines will be armed with one five inch gun, each set in a "wet" mount forward of the conning tower. Machine guns will be mounted on the conning tower bridge. Forward will be four torpedo tubes and aft two others, all of the twenty-one inch size. Storage space is planned for sixteen torpedoes.

Harding's Wireless Note Heard 10,000 Miles Away
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 6.—President Harding's message, sent by wireless from the radio central at Rocky Point, N. Y., was received direct yesterday at Sydney, Melbourne, and Hobart by special receiving instruments installed on vessels. At the Sydney station the message was ticked off as distinctly as if it had come only 100 miles instead of 10,000 miles.

SHRINERS BREAK RULES TO HELP DISABLED VETS

About the time the corner stone of Medinah temple was laid there was promulgated one rule that, his since outranked all regulations affecting the management of the Shriner's auditorium. This, in effect, provided that the temple should not be used for any save Shrine purposes.

And the rule was not one of those "made to be broken." But it has been. The ironclad regulation has snapped before an appeal in behalf of disabled ex-service men.

Mrs. Walter E. Hughes, president of the Patriotic Women's Club of America, which is sponsoring the disabled soldiers' benefit to be held Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 22, last night announced the show will be in Medinah temple.
"Ralph Lidster, illustrious potentate," said Mrs. Hughes, "told us the Shriner's wish to make this contribution to the cause of the disabled service men."

BURCH HINTS OF SURPRISE IN HIS 'INSANITY' TRIAL

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Mrs. Madelynn Connor Obenchain and Arthur Courtenay Burch, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy are ready and willing to place their fates to the touch tomorrow, "to win or lose it all."

Burch, scowling, somber, morose, utterly changed in demeanor since his counsel pleaded insanity, may arise in the courtroom and spring a surprise. He intimated as much this afternoon.

"They've painted the insane asylum in very alluring colors," he said, "but I'm color blind. I know I'm not insane and I'll prove it. My counsel are crazy, and it may be I shall have to get new counsel before I'm through."
Madelynn is ready to ask Judge Reeve for immediate trial tomorrow morning. Neither she nor her ex-husband would comment on the rumor that they are to be married at the end of the trial.

JAPAN EAGER FOR U. S. FRIENDSHIP, BISHOP ASSERTS

Will Make Concessions at Disarm Meeting.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Japan will go the limit in making concessions at the arms conference, according to statements yesterday by Bishop Herbert Welch, bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, who resides in Seoul, Korea, and has ecclesiastical supervision of the Methodist Episcopal missionaries in Japan. He was formerly president of Ohio Wesleyan university. He spoke last evening in the First Methodist Episcopal church, Evanston. His views were expressed in an interview.

"Japan desires the friendship of the United States so much," he said, "that I believe her statesmen at Washington will yield on some things they regard as their rights."

China is Big Problem. "The difficulties concerning such questions as are involved in Japan and immigration can be settled without difficulty. The real problems lie in the attitude of Japan and other countries towards China and Siberia."

"There are three special groups in Japan, which are rapidly coming to the front, which makes for peace and friendship with the United States. They are the student class, which is studying democracy; the laboring class, which has already attained a distinct class consciousness; and the new woman. While the military party is still in power, its power is waning year by year."

Declares War Antiquated. "Christians must fight for peace," said the Rev. Gilbert Wilson in the New First Congregational church, Ashland and Washington boulevards. "War has created the present difficulties which are among the allies, and not between the allies and their former enemy nations. War is played out, antiquated and barbaric. We need to cultivate a national conscience against war as we did against slavery; and as we are now cultivating against intemperance."

"America is now the leading nation in the world and must lead in peace," said the Rev. Frederick L. Seiden, pastor of the Ravenswood Presbyterian church. "There will be no limitation of armaments unless America leads the way."

"Japan could have led China if she had tried friendship and not force," said the Rev. Theodore S. Soares of the University of Chicago in the Hyde Park Congregational church.

"DISOBEDIENCE" REVOLT IN INDIA ORDERED PUSHED

DELHI, India, Nov. 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—The all-India congress committee, consisting of 200 delegates, today adopted a resolution with only seven dissenting votes, adhering to the policy of "civil disobedience," including nonpayment of taxes and complete noncooperation.

Mahatma K. Gandhi, the nationalist leader, who introduced the resolution, emphasized the seriousness of the proposed nonviolent revolution and uttered a warning against adopting the ## measure in a light hearted manner.

He also foreshadowed the starting of the disobedience movement in the Gujarat district within a fortnight, which, he said, would set an example for the rest of India.

HARDING GIVEN VIEWS OF WOMEN ON DISARMAMENT

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Four women will take part of the conference on limitation of armaments and far eastern problems, but more than 4,000,000 organized women in the United States, to say nothing of the millions in this and other countries not formally affiliated with any organization, will be here through their own representatives and in spirit, when President Harding delivers his address of welcome to the delegates in the hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution on Saturday.

The attitude of all four—Mrs. Egan, Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, and Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edson—which fairly represents the millions of women who have expressed themselves on the subject, is one of the strongest assurance that the conference will have from the women of the United States exactly the kind of support desired by the President and by Secretary of State Hughes.

Are Largely in Agreement.

International agreements and the reduction of armaments within the limits of national safety is the position of the many clubs, with 4,000,000 members, represented by Mrs. Winter. Of all the organized groups of women represented at Washington, only three, with a total membership of less than 3,000 in the United States, stand for complete and immediate disarmament.

Mrs. Winter's call, issued to the club women of the country a few months ago, urged them to "back the leaders of our government in their attempt to secure the future safety of the world."

Cautions in Recommendation.

She did not then and does not now believe disarmament at this time to be within the range of possibilities. A delegation of university women urges "a mutual agreement to suspend all present programs for naval construction until some permanent international agreement can be arrived at," and also a plan for an association of nations.

Few women apparently are coming from overseas for the conference. It

CENSUS SHOWS HOW DOWNS THROTTLES

Revision of Leg

BY E. O. PHILL

Throttled by downstate legislative reapportionment because of alleged "improper" domination of Cook county's now has as a set of senatorial districts, first of senatorial districts, as a legislative standpoint, as a national duty and redistricting are urged.

The last apportionment, 1901, more than twenty years then, Chicago's population nearly doubled and has almost doubled. Some results of the legislature to perform its duty and redistricting are urged.

One citizen in the Ninth has five and one-half times the number of Irving Park and a state senator and representatives.

One citizen on the north coast, or along North Chicago, is worth four times as much as the mill worker in Chicago for legislative purposes. One of the Kenna-Cou attorney in the First ward just three times as much as Springfield as a Twenty-fifth ward.

Table Shows Population of Chicago Districts. With the cooperation of the bureau, THE TRIBUNE has a table showing the population of Cook county's nineteen senatorial districts as shown by the census. The population for each district the new census should be seven of the nineteen districts are under the ratio between 65,000 and 70,000 the number.

Twelve are over the ratio. Nineteenth—having enough for an additional district. Twenty-fifth has a surplus one and one-half times the ratio have a population near the table follows:

CENSUS SHOWS HOW DOWNSTATE THROTTLES CITY

Revision of Legislative Districts Urgent.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Throttled by downstate opposition to legislative reapportionment of Illinois because of alleged "Chicago domination" of the general assembly, Cook county now has as grotesque a set of senatorial districts, from a population standpoint, as could be conceived.

The last apportionment was in May, 1911, more than twenty years ago. Since then, Chicago's population has nearly doubled and has shifted amazingly. Some results of the refusal of the legislature to perform its constitutional duty and redistrict the state, are listed:

One citizen in the Nineteenth ward has five and one-half times the power of the citizen of Irving Park in choosing a state senator and three representatives.

One citizen on the north side "gold coast" or along North Clark street, is worth four times as much, proportionately, as the mill worker in South Chicago for legislative purposes.

One of the Keweenaw-Coughlin constituency in the First ward exercises just three times as much force at Springfield as a Twenty-fifth ward citizen.

With the cooperation of the city map board, THE TRIBUNE has prepared a table showing the population of each of Cook county's nineteen senatorial districts as shown by the census of 1920. The population for each district under the new census should be 127,159, seven of the nineteen Cook county districts are under the ratio, three being between 65,000 and 70,000 short of the number.

Twelve are over the ratio, one—the Nineteenth—having enough in excess for an additional district and the Twenty-fifth has a surplus equal to one and one-half times the ratio. Only two have a population near the figure. The table follows:

District	Population
1—Loop	62,732
2—Near west side	91,889
3—Loop	108,531
4—Stockyards	120,335
5—Hyde Park	183,932
6—Loop	230,284
7—Country town	208,823
8—Southwest side	138,573
9—Loop	218,083
10—Loop	231,736
11—Loop	74,019
12—Loop	88,396
13—Loop	234,467
14—Loop	145,008
15—Loop	200,556

25—Twenty-seventh ward	818,354
27—Milwaukee avenue	74,043
29—Near north side	60,097
31—Lake View	203,867

Congressional District Figures.
Figures for the ten Cook county districts are fully as "spooky," showing, for instance, that Congressman Michaelson from the northwest side district represents nearly five times as many persons as Congressman Sabath, and four times as many as Congressman Madden.

Following are the congressional district figures, including Lake county, which is part of the Tenth district, the name of the sitting congressman being shown:

District	Population
1—Madden	166,939
2—Mann	461,504
3—Sprunt	358,578

Pays to Use Corn as Fuel at Present Price: Wallace

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—Corn at 32 cents a bushel is equal in value to coal at $16 a ton, Secretary Wallace said today, commenting on reports that some farmers were burning corn for fuel. At 20 cents a bushel, he said, corn would be equivalent to coal at $10 a ton.

"In districts where corn is cheap now the coal is of a rather poor grade and is selling at high prices," he continued.

"Under such conditions it will pay both farmers and people in country towns to use corn instead of coal. Undoubtedly large quantities of corn will be burned on western farms this winter, unless the prices rise."

Coal Producers Can Only Tell You About the Mine Price

IN this series of advertisements the producers have told you what it costs to mine anthracite and prepare it for market. It has been shown that of the dollar received by the mine owner 65 cents goes for wages, 15 cents for supplies, leaving 20 cents for insurance, taxes, depreciation, uninsurable risks and profits.

The profits per ton have been stated; namely, what remains out of a "margin" of 60 cents per ton after paying selling expenses, taxes and interest.

This was accompanied by the statement that the operator is fortunate whose margin approximates 60 cents a ton. Only a few exceed it, most of them make less and many are today operating at a loss.

A third advertisement set forth the actual figures of an average cost mine, as follows: labor, per ton, $3.92; materials, $1.05; insurance, taxes, etc., 58 cents; total, $5.55—a cost applying alike to coal selling at the mine for $7.50 a ton or more, and to the small by-product sizes of coal selling as low as $1.50 a ton.

As the average received by the producer for his total tonnage was $6.15, and the cost $5.55, it was again shown in this way that the average mine owner's margin was about 60 cents.

All these facts relate to mine prices and mine costs. They are the only factors in the situation for which the producers are responsible.

Retail prices have not been discussed in these talks with the public because the producers had no first-hand knowledge of them, and no statement they could make would cover all the factors governing prices in different places.

Retail prices are not the same in different communities, because freight rates, local conditions and dealers' costs vary greatly.

The explanation of the difference between the mine price and the retail price of anthracite can be given by your coal dealer.

Ask him, for this explanation, and we believe a frank and satisfactory reply will be forthcoming.

The information contained in this series of advertisements of which this is No. 6, is to do only with the MINE producers' part in the transaction. Control passes out of the producers' hands as soon as the coal is loaded on cars for shipment to market.

WOMEN'S CLUBS URGED TO PLANT MEMORY TREES

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

The Chicago Woman's club forestry class held its first meeting of the season Friday at luncheon, and the subject of the day was memorial trees. Mrs. Russell Hollister Opdyke, class chairman, presided, and Miss Grace Temple, the club's president, talked feelingly of trees, their uses, their beauty, and the good company they are in lonely places.

braver than a tree—that lives under the most trying conditions and never gives up the fight while there is anything left to fight with. The club will consider the planting of a memory row to the soldier relatives of club members.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs was one of the originators of the memory row idea. The federation outlined the planting of trees on Lincoln highway, combining a beautiful landscape idea with it.

The clubwomen were urged Friday to plant the Memory trees and then, wherever the idea could be carried out, proceed later with the planting of shrubs and flowers.

Willes Park Woman's club will meet at the fieldhouse Armistice day at 1:45 o'clock and have a service flag ceremony and Memory tree planting. Mrs. George Mathes will make the address.

Mrs. Lillian White of the Chicago council of Gold Star Mothers invites all Gold Star Mothers, whether they are members of an organization or not, to attend the tree planting services of the council Nov. 11. The time and location will be announced later.

Two subscriptions, one of $100 from the United Building and Development Organization, and another of $50 from subdividers of the Glendale subdivision, will enable the commission headed by Mrs. W. H. Lyford to extend the line of memorial trees as far as Lombard. The trees are already planted from Wheaton to Glendale.

The CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR Internationally Respected as Being Truly Internationally Informed

A Newspaper that Speaks Where Ten Thousand Papers Quote!

As a newspaper reader you are, of course, familiar with the names of these two great news-gathering agencies: the Associated Press and the United Press.

But think of the unique position of a newspaper which, in addition to these two great arteries of world news, also maintains its own, and seldom uses the others.

Where ten thousand newspapers quote the Associated Press and the United Press, the Christian Science Monitor—a voice in a wilderness of phonographs—speaks by no vicarious authority, but by its own!

From the capitals of Europe, from the Orient, from the Antipodes, from Egypt to the Cape, from every corner of the Americas, Monitor news is Monitor-gathered, by Monitor correspondents, for Monitor readers.

The Monitor's mission is to speak, not to repeat, to find its news, not to borrow it, to learn the truth, not to lean on hearsay, to employ assertions of fact instead of alibis of quotation!

And what is the result?

What is the value placed on Monitor news in the market-place of world opinion?

The answer takes us into the banking, the industrial, and the political centers of the world.

Men of every shade of political, religious, and economic opinion speak with the utmost fervor of the authenticity, the accuracy, and the priority of Monitor news. Take the forthcoming Conference for the Limitation of Armament, for example.

Statesmen of many governments—men whose names are on every lip, and in whose hands rest the destinies and dreams of peoples and of peace, subscribe to the Monitor and subscribe for the Monitor, as the vade mecum of international information.

During the Conference they will watch the Monitor, for the Monitor will watch the Conference, giving an interpretative analysis of its deliberations and publishing the facts, unadorned and unafraid.

And you are invited to follow their example and the example of the mentally awake and aspiring everywhere, who look to the Monitor for the truth as men adjust their watches to the Standard Time!

A business of $806,000,000 active marketing and buying through farmers' organization according to figures issued by the bureau of the census. The figures show that the growth of the cooperative movement on the farm is one of the most important factors in the United States marketed products through farmers' organization. One farm out of every twelve is a member of a cooperative purchasing organization. The total number of farm products through the agency of cooperative organizations was $11,383,000. Sales through the farmers' organizations ran up to $100,000,000.

This is an average of $1,412 farm reporting. The most products so marketed were grain and cream, fruits, and truck.

Scope of Joint Buying

VAST SCOPE OF FARMERS' CO-OPS SHOWN BY CENSUS

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

A business of $805,000,000 in co-operative marketing and buying was done through farmers' organizations in 1919 according to figures issued last night by the bureau of the census. They are the first authentic tab on the growth of the co-operative movement on the farm.

One farm out of every twelve in the United States marketed agricultural products through farmers' societies. One farm out of every twenty reported co-operative purchasing of supplies. The total number of farms selling products through the agricultural "co-ops" was 111,383.

Sales through the farmers' marketing organizations ran up to $721,953,100.

This is an average of $1,412 for each farm reporting. The most important products so marketed were grain, milk, and cream, fruits, and truck crops.

Scope of Joint Buying.

Buying through farmers' organizations was reported by 329,449 farms, and the total amount of their purchases in 1919 was $34,615,669. It averaged $105 for each farm reporting. The most important supplies bought co-operatively were fertilizer, feed, binder twine, spraying materials, coal, crates, and other containers.

Nine middle west states and California led the rest by a long distance in co-operative marketing. In Minnesota 12,314 farms, or 44 per cent of all farms in the state, reported co-operative marketing. Other states, with a

CAPT. CARLAND ENDS 30TH YEAR AS COAST GUARD; SAVED 5,000

"Thirty years in the coast guard—thirty years, and I'm gray," mused Capt. Charles Carland yesterday as he sat on the quarter deck of the U. S. coast guard station at Evanston and thought of the adventures which have been his since entering the life saving service in 1891.

Capt. Carland has forwarded to Washington a request that at the close of the fiscal year, Dec. 31, he be retired from the service. The veteran life saver in his years on the lakes and high seas has rescued 5,000 persons, and estimates that he has responded to calls for help from at least 1,800 wrecked and distressed vessels.

The last four years he has been in command at Evanston. For sixteen years prior to that he was in charge of the station at the mouth of the Chicago river.

"If they will let me retire I am going to live with my son, Capt. Frank B. Carland, president of the Carland Coal company," Capt. Carland stated. "We have a home ready at 78th street and Euclid avenue."

large ratio of farms reporting were Iowa with 43,350; Wisconsin, with 42,848; Michigan, with 42,104; Kansas, with 33,654; Nebraska, with 32,548; California, with 25,772; Illinois, with 24,787; South Dakota, with 20,241.

Illinois Movement Tardy.

In all these states the proportion of farms participating in co-operative marketing was more than 20 per of all farms in the state, with the exception of Illinois, where it amounted to 10.5 per cent.

The largest total sales were reported from California, $127,990,900; Minnesota, $82,760,000; Iowa, $59,403,000; Illinois, $47,920,000; New York, $44,906,000; Nebraska, $44,755,000; Kansas, $44,290,000.

In co-operative buying five states reported over $4,000,000 as the value of farm supplies bought through farmers' organizations: Kansas, $8,553,000; Nebraska, $9,650,000; Iowa, $8,769,000; Minnesota, $6,842,000, and California, $4,321,000.

Cadillac Victoria Type 61

In this city, as everywhere, the Victoria has always been one of the most admired and popular of the Cadillac closed car group. Now its desirability is bound to be enhanced by the new elements of beauty which are instantly recognized in this Type 61 Victoria.

It has, of course, the substantial and dignified presence which has singled it out in the past; but its added dash and smartness confer a distinction even more pleasing.

As in all models of the Type 61, the artistic and convenient arrangement of the instrument board, windshield and ventilator improvements, the unique simplicity and grace of the new steering wheel and controls, the completeness of its fittings, will delight every experienced motorist.

Fine engineering has succeeded in lowering the center of gravity without decreasing road clearance, and has wrought a surprising improvement in the smoothness of travel.

It is our judgment that the Type 61 thus accomplishes the greatest advance yet recorded in overcoming road discomfort and insuring riding ease.

SHARKEY MAY TAKE TITLE IN BUFF BOUT

BY HARRY NEWMAN.

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Every once in a while the old dog is subjected to a severe jolt.

Wouldn't it be a funny stunt if Jack Sharkey should step in next Thursday night in Madison Square Garden and knock that Johnny Buff fighter cuckoo in their fifteen round tilt which carries with it the bantamweight championship?

Sharkey does not figure to win, yet, as in baseball, nothing must be taken for granted in the boxing game. If Sharkey should nail the thumping kid from Jersey City it certainly would be one of the biggest upsets in years. However, stranger things have happened.

Sharkey Is Confident.

In all the years in which Sharkey has been up there battling with the tough kids in the bantam division, he never before had a shot at the title. Now that his longed for hope is to be gratified, he honestly believes he will beat Buff and scamper off with the big pennant.

If confidence and gameness count for anything Buff has a tough assignment on his hands, but the railbirds refuse to concede Jack a Chinaman's chance and no doubt will send in everything on Buff winning by a knockout.

There is a severe contrast in the styles of the two boxers. Buff is essentially a straight hitter, rarely resorting to a swing, while Sharkey is given to pitching in wide open with arms working like sails. That wide open style of attack is cherry pie for a good straight" line hitter and unless Sharkey abandons that method Buff is likely to grab him in the very first round.

Buff to Be Favorite.

Straight line hitters as a rule get the heavy play from the crowd and as Buff is one of those birds he will no doubt be made a topheavy favorite over the good looking Italian boy from the west side.

At any rate it looks as if there will be a real shindy when the two gamblers start shooting on Thursday night in Tex Rickard's big playground. Buff figures to breeze in a winner, but Sharkey says that he will knock all the dope into a cocked hat when he gets warmed up.

EASY FOR SINAI BANTAMS.

Sinai Social center bantamweight another Althea, 54 to 5, in a basketball game at the Sinai gym Saturday. Levy and Gutmann, with 10 and 8 baskets respectively, started for the winners.

STRAIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER

by Frank Smith

From information gathered from authentic sources Leonard never will be able to make the lightweight limit. If he forces Sailor Freedman to make weight, he will be in their coming Philadelphia battle and goes in at a featherweight himself. So will be slaughtered. However, Bennis may develop a stiff neck or a broken thumb.

If Tex Rickard is the "up and up" promoter advertised, and we (Tribune Photo.) have no reason to doubt the claims of his press agents, he should start an elimination tournament for lightweights, first publicly offering Leonard a chance to defend the title. If Bennis declines, the championship should be thrown open and the boys in the division should be given a chance to prove which one is the topnotcher.

Some day there is going to be a settlement of the case of Ruth, Meusel, et al. When Judge Landis knows, and he will not tell. It is regrettable that organized baseball has not changed methods with its clothes. There has been ample time to collect all the necessary evidence either to convict or acquit the erring members of the Yankee team.

The baseball public is interested in the disposition of the case; but, as in years gone by, that public is denied news to which it is justly entitled through its support of the game.

It is coming winter now, but when spring arrives the "Game Today, 3:30" sign will be dangling from elevated trains and street cars.

SPORTS through Edgren's EYES

BY ROBERT EDGREN.

WHEN Jack McAuliffe decided to go to England and Ireland to find "a good lightweight and a good heavyweight," he started something like shipping corn to Kansas. We are already pretty well supplied with a good lightweight and a good heavyweight—in fact, the best lightweight and heavyweight world's champions in many years.

Jack McAuliffe was a great lightweight champion himself in his day, and he'll know a good lightweight when he meets one, but he could strain his eyes looking them over in England with another finding another Benny Leonard or Jack Dempsey, or any man capable of giving either Leonard or Dempsey a fight.

Billy Madden stirred things up years ago by going to England to find a man to whip John L. Sullivan. Madden developed one Charles Mitchell, a midweight, and brought him over, but he never found a man to whip Sullivan.

Neither will McAuliffe find one to whip Dempsey. Dempsey is a greater fighter than Sullivan was. There is so much more boxing all over the country now than there was in Sullivan's day that nearly all our prominent boxers are more skilled than the old timers.

Men today and thirty years ago are about the same, but modern boxers have educational advantages in boxing that the old timers lacked.

Our old friend Jack McAuliffe might find another Charlie Mitchell. But that wouldn't do any good. A Charlie Mitchell wouldn't last a round with Dempsey. Carpenter was as clever as Mitchell and a harder hitter, as well as twenty pounds heavier and several inches taller, and he couldn't take Jack's number.

Here's the way I figure Dempsey's fighting ability, compared with that of former champions:

WESTERN TEAMS PROVE CLASS IN EASTERN GAMES

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Following last Saturday's football games, featured by victories of Notre Dame and Nebraska over the Army and Pittsburgh, two of the strongest eleven in the east, the superiority of the middle west gridiron game over the east has been demonstrated for the first time in history.

Never before in the annals of the popular college game have eleven from the middle west defeated a similar number of the east when each was representative of its respective section. The victories were clean cut and decisive, and show coaching methods in the middle west are superior to those in the Atlantic seaboard.

Notre Dame was given its first victory over the Army, 23 to 0. The Army had all the best of play with the exception of punting. Their offense and defense were superior to Old Hunk, and the latter undoubtedly learned a lesson, as may be gathered from the result of the Princeton-Harvard game.

To make the superiority of middle west football more pronounced, Ohio State won from Chicago, 7 to 0, while Michigan took Harvard into camp, 10 to 1. The Buckeyes' victory over the Maroons, after one of the greatest games since the coming of the forward pass, was a result of the excellent strategy used in the final period for the score which decided the contest.

Nebraska, strong contender for honors in the Missouri Valley conference, further emphasized the caliber of middle west football by defeating the Pittsburgh Panthers, 10 to 0. Early in the season the Pitt eleven was beaten by Lafayette, 7 to 0, but since that time Glen Warner's team has defeated some strong aggregations, including Pennsylvania and Syracuse.

West's Greatest Year. In former years the two sections have seldom met with representative teams. Eleven from the middle west has gone east, but at no time could they be termed representative of their section. For this reason eastern football has always been upon an uneven basis, but the results of this year's games should go a long way toward showing that all the good machines are not developed along the Atlantic coast.

Although the season has two weeks to go, it can be rightfully termed the greatest year in western football. Victories of three western eleven over representative teams of the east and the eleven from the middle west in the Western conference championship race is something which has never happened before. While there is a possibility the field of championship contenders in the Big Ten will be reduced with the playing of final games on Nov. 12, it is hard to figure an undisputed champion.

Badgers Face Real Task. Ohio State should win from Purdue and Illinois in its remaining games. Iowa should be victor over Indiana and Northwestern in the only remaining contests on the Hawkeye schedule. Wisconsin, another powerful aggregation, has the hardest task of keeping its state clean. The Badgers will meet Michigan at Madison Saturday and Chicago on Stage field Nov. 19.

Ohio is due Coach Welch and his team for their victory over Chicago, 41 to 7. It was the worst defeat of an eleven man machine which worked in perfect union. The team had been given a versatile attack, one which could gain against any sort of defense. The plays were carefully planned and the necessary deception was apparent at all times.

A NOTE FOR THE DUCK HUNTERS.

ANY time we have held in our hand a beautiful duck for other game birds that we had just bagged and it was so handsome that we hated to see its feathers mused up. But there is a way to keep that bird and the taxidermist is the man who can fix it up for you so that it can adorn the wall of your den in all its natural beauty.

If you are thinking of picking up a mallard, redhead, canvasback or other duck so as to have it mounted, here is the way to keep your bird in good shape until you deliver it to the taxidermist. Take along some cheap cotton and as soon as the bird is shot wipe all blood from its feathers. Put a good sized chunk in its throat and then search carefully for the places where shot entered the body of the bird and in each hole wedge a piece of cotton so that all blood will be absorbed. This is important.

When you are sure that all places have been taken care of, grasp the bird by the bill and lightly shake it so that the feathers will fall in their natural position. Now you are ready to wrap it up. Ordinary newspaper will do, but heavy brown paper is stronger and better. Make a cornucopia out of the paper and drop the bird headfirst in. Fold in the top, keep the specimen cool, and your bird will be delivered to the taxidermist in first class condition.

HOLY NAME WINS AT INDOOR. Holy Name defeated Veritas at indoor baseball yesterday at Lake Shore playground, 8 to 5.

SPOTLIGHT ON TIGERS IN EAST'S "BIG THREE"

New York, Nov. 6.—Princeton, despite its defeats by the Naval academy and Chicago, has taken the spotlight in the east's "big three," as a result of Saturday's 10 to 2 victory over Harvard, and the Tigers are rated highly for their clash with Yale at New Haven this week.

Long and patiently the Tiger had waited for victory over the Cadmon, and it came Saturday something after the fashion of the last previous Princeton triumph in 1911.

Meanwhile Yale was having a picnic with Maryland. Tad Jones sent his second string men into the line and gave a number of substitutes a chance, while the regular Bulldog back field enjoyed an opportunity to employ some of the tricks they will use against the Tigers.

Tribute to Notre Dame. Notre Dame employed its unique attack successfully against West Point, and while making four touchdowns, permitted the cadets to gain ground for only two first downs. The weird attack of the Indians, conceived by their capable mentor, Knute Rockne, was even more baffling than that the cadets were called upon to face in 1920.

Glenn Warner's Pittsburghers were given a setback by the rangy Cornhuskers of Nebraska university, 10 to 0. The westerners frustrated the Panthers' attempt to advance in the first part of the game, by using a close order defensive, and grounded every aerial play Pittsburgh tried later.

Cornell Again Shows Power. Cornell was too powerful for Columbia, 41 to 7. The Columbian were tossed by the Cornell attack in the early stages and allowed the Ithacans to pierce their line and skirt their ends at will.

The Navy had a close call with Bucknell, and won by a single touchdown. Lafayette, which for five years had been unable to score against Pennsylvania, battered the Quakers' line for an easy 38 to 6 victory.

Syracuse was extended to defeat McGill university eleven in Montreal 13 to 0. Georgetown put Fordham to route, 34 to 7; Williams scored six touchdowns and a field goal against Union's weak line; Muhlenberg won from Lehigh by the scant margin of a goal from touchdown, 14-13, and Amherst tied with Wesleyan, field goal to field goal, in their eastern games of note.

HOPPE HERE FOR TITLE TOURNEY. Willie Hoppe, champion of the world, and his playing opponent, Charles C. Peterson, arrived here yesterday. Hoppe expressed himself as being in perfect condition for the coming championship tournament. Hoppe and Peterson open a series of games at Mussey's Madison street rooms at 2:30 o'clock today.

It is impossible to establish a legitimate championship for Peterson, but billiardists who have seen him in exhibition in the last ten years claim he is the marvel of the ivory game. He has a repertoire which includes 504 different and distinct fancy shots.

NOTES OF THE CUE ROOMS. A cue tournament for the championship of the Alcazar A. C. Granin A. C. and the Mustangs will start tonight at Murphy's rooms, 3839 Grand avenue.

C. H. L. BASKET TEAM WINS. The C. H. L. basketball team defeated the Melody Speedboys, 28 to 14, at the winner's gym Saturday.

HARVEY SOCCER TEAM BEATS ALVERNOS, 3-1

Harvey eliminated the Alverno soccer team from the National cup race yesterday, 3 to 1, at 1034 street and Corlies avenue. The game was a replay of a first round match.

The Alverno team was handicapped in the first minutes of play in the first half, Jack Carlson was injured and a few minutes later John Molr was ordered from the field after an argument with Referee Leech. This forced the Alvernos to play with only nine men. Harvey lost a player when "Dodger" McPherson was sent to the clubhouse for striking Cardon of the Alvernos.

With the score tied, 1 to 1, at half time, Guthrie and Bechea each scored a goal, winning for Harvey.

Both teams, using a variety of Minnesota shifts, relied strongly on open play for their longest gains.

PASSES OF CARDINALS BEAT HAMMOND, 7-0

Featured by the forward passing of Paddy Driscoll to Steger, Chicago Cardinals defeated the Hammond professional football team yesterday at Normal park, 7 to 0.

The Cardinals' score came early in the opening quarter. After the Driscoll-Steger pass combination had carried the oval to Steger's five yard line Driscoll slid off his right tackle on a fake back play for the only touchdown. He added another point by kicking a goal.

After the score Hammond braced and kept the Cardinals at a safe distance. The Hoosier eleven advanced to the locals' twenty-five yard line in the third period, but an intercepted forward pass ruined their chance to score. Lineup:

STALEY ELEVEN DOWNS DETROIT TIGERS BY 20-9

Staley's of Decatur advanced another step closer to the championship of the American Professional Football association by defeating the Detroit Tigers yesterday at Cubs park, 20 to 9.

Dutch Sternman started the local's scoring by the Staleys on a running thirty-five yards for a touchdown in the first half. Aided by perfect interference the former Illinois player slid off Detroit's left tackle, and then cut back through the secondary defense.

The second touchdown resulted from a forward pass, Huffine to Chamberlain, the latter scooting over the line after a great catch. Stinchcomb scored the other marker for the Staleys on a quarterback sneak play. Blacklock kicked two of the three goals.

Detroit's touchdown was made by Full Back Keuhl who drove through the Staley line after his team had rushed the ball to Staley's five yard line.

The visitors scored a safety when one of Huffine's punts was blocked and Sternman fell on it back of his goal line. The contest was seen by about 6,000 fans. Lineup:

PROPAGANDA OF POLITICS ENTERS SUBWAY ISSUE

Four Lines of Attack on Project Are Seen.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Those who "favor" better local transit facilities for political purposes rather than for transportation purposes have started four lines of attack to prevent real progress. The propaganda is substantially as follows:

1. Shall there be short subways only in the loop for the sole benefit of the rich property owners?

2. Are you certain that if the $30,000,000 traction fund is used, the surface lines will not have a substantial legal claim to exclusive use of the subways?

3. If an independent subway system is constructed, won't it go broke because of insufficient patronage in Chicago?

4. Isn't the best solution by far—the most prudent and advantageous to the people—to build subways in connection with Mayor Thompson's traction plant?

Unlikely Debate Likely Today.

Because of the circulation of the propaganda it is probable there will be considerable debate among the aldermen on the council local transportation committee this afternoon. The committee at its last session decided to "go into" the subject of subways and transportation improvements, and today's session may be devoted to choosing the path by which the committee will enter.

The opposition to doing anything may have some hope that out of the discussion an issue can be created which will be of benefit in both the spring primaries and also in the majority election of 1923. They have great faith in the value of local transportation as a political issue and privately some of them cite as proof of the soundness of their judgment the performance of Carter H. Harrison in riding into office on the "traction problem."

May Define Policy.

Perhaps the character of the game, which the opposition will play will be brought out in the foreground at the meeting this afternoon, but it is impossible. It has heretofore been the policy of the city administration to permit its lieutenants to travel along with a proposition for an extended period in the hope of collecting as much valuable information as possible before the opposition comes boldly out in front. Whether that policy will be followed remains to be seen.

The public is invited to appear at the session and discuss the subject.

PLASTER FALLS ON DANCERS; 19 HURT; PANIC NEAR

Four persons were seriously injured and fifteen more were cut and bruised when a section of plaster from the ceiling of the Douglas Park auditorium, on the second floor at 3201 Ogden avenue, fell on their heads last night.

A reception and dance given by the Paul Joshua Women's society was in progress and 200 couples were on the floor. A small panic following the crash of the plaster and screams of the injured was averted by the quick action of Morris Sabath, an employee of the United States appraiser's office, in urging the orchestra to continue the dance music.

The injured, all of whom received many wounds and numerous bruises, are: Mrs. Lillian Klein, 4152 West 24th street; Mrs. Caroline Levy, 2539 South Strengfield avenue; and Mr. and Mrs. David Sabath, 2410 South Clifton Park avenue.

Mme. Galski to Sing Here in German

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made by the Chicago Grand Opera management that in pursuance of the plan to present opera in German in the Auditorium this season Mme. Johanna Galski has been engaged for a number of performances.

Mme. Galski will appear three times in New York, it is understood, and once in San Francisco, during the tour of the Chicago company. Mme. Galski's appearances will be in "Tristan and Isolde" and in "Tannhäuser," it is reported. These will be in the nature of a revival of German opera in Chicago.

BAKLANOFF NOT HER SOUL MATE, AMAZAR ADMITS

Retracts All Charges Against Baritone.

Mlle. Elvira Amazar, Russian singer, has retracted her accusations against another Russian singer, Georges Baklanoff, baritone of the Chicago Grand Opera company. It was to sing for the Boston Opera company, and not to travel with Baklanoff, as she said, that she came to America.

These facts were learned from Joseph B. Fleming, attorney, who represented the baritone, when deportation charges were filed two years ago. Although the proceedings are still pending, it is expected that they will be dismissed. Mlle. Amazar is in Europe. Baklanoff reaches Chicago today, ready for another season's work with Mary Garden's array of songbirds.

Charged Broken Promise.

In her original charges, made in 1919, Mlle. Amazar maintained that Georges had promised to marry her in Europe and in America. He kept delaying the event, she said, until she found that he already had a wife. The charges succeeded in banishing both singers from the Congress hotel, and in deportation proceedings.

A year later after this unpleasantness, however, found them dining happily together in a Paris hotel. Friends again, the accuser said.

Protest by City's Clergy.

Returning from Europe last autumn, Baklanoff was delayed for a time at Ellis island, until the question of admitting him to this country had been thrashed out. His initial appearance on the stage of the Auditorium theater drew a loud protest from certain of the local clergy. The public, on the other hand, received him with enthusiastic acclaim.

No further interference was met by the Russian singer when he left Paris a month ago for America. The American consul at the French capital vied the stage of the Auditorium theater drew a loud protest from certain of the local clergy. The public, on the other hand, received him with enthusiastic acclaim.

ECONOMIST, 89, DIES AS HE IS GIVING LECTURE

Lucian Stebbins, 89 years old, for many years a leading Nebraska economist, died yesterday while delivering a lecture before the Anthropological society in the Masonic temple. Mr. Stebbins had been engaged to deliver a lecture on "The Cancellation of the World War Debt."

He had spoken less than half an hour when he suddenly stopped in the middle of a sentence and fell to the floor. He was taken to the hospital, but died before he could be revived.

Beginning life as a farmer, Mr. Stebbins studied international politics in his spare time until he became an authority. He wrote for several Nebraska newspapers and served one term in the Nebraska legislature.

He came to Chicago several weeks ago to deliver a series of lectures on present day economic problems. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Etta S. Bonner, and three sons. His home was in North Platte, Neb.

Zion City Signboard War Again in Court

Sixteen independent who were bound over by the grand jury for burning bulletin boards erected by Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion, and later were released on the ground that there was no law to punish such a crime, have been served with warrants to appear in Circuit court at Waukegan, Ill., the first week in December. Overseer Voliva is seeking $1,000 damages. The independent recently followed Voliva's example and erected signboards of their own denouncing the doctrines of the overseer.

The Inquiring Reporter Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

How should we celebrate Armistice day?

Where Asked.

State and Madison streets.

The Answers.

C. F. Burnett, 725 Chestnut street, clerk—Well, first of all it should be made a legal holiday. There should be great parades arranged for every part of the city and the city's population in general should make it a day of rejoicing.

Miss Anna Mack, 2128 West 21st place, student—I think it should be celebrated in a similar manner as it was in 1918. Of course, it would be difficult to have as great a time as we had then, but there's nothing like trying.

Philip Lucas, 940 Sedgewick street, horseshoer—It would be a good thing if a parade of the men who fought in France could be arranged. That, with celebrating with fireworks, would be very appropriate. Then, too, I think it would be a good idea if employers on that day would mediate on unemployment.

Marie Mazal, 2146 West 21st place, clerk—I think a huge military demonstration should be held in Grant park on Armistice day. I would revive the recollections of the men who fought in France could be arranged. That, with celebrating with fireworks, would be very appropriate. Then, too, I think it would be a good idea if employers on that day would mediate on unemployment.

Frank Bruscatto, 917 Larrabee street, store owner—That's a hard question to answer. But I know how I would like to celebrate it. It would be in the same manner as I did in France in 1918. There was plenty of wine there and it helped give the required spirit.

FUR THIEVES CUT THROUGH ROOF TO GET $40,000 LOOT

Homes, Stores Looted in Robbery Series.

Burglars cut a hole through the roof of the South Shore Fur company's store, 6717 Stony Island avenue, early yesterday, lowered themselves into the store, passed $40,000 worth of furs out through the hole, loaded them into an automobile and got safely away. Adolph Silverstein, proprietor, discovered the robbery when he opened the store for business.

A theft of $1,000 in silverware from the home of William B. Castenholz, 145 Melrose avenue, Kenilworth, an accountant with offices in the Bedford building, was reported to Chief Murray of the Kenilworth police. The robbers had piled up other loot valued at $5,000, when Mrs. Castenholz returned home and frightened them away.

Kidnaped in Auto.

Kidnaped for a day, slugged, robbed of his automobile and money, were the experiences told by Mary Wakefield, automobile salesman, to the Rogers Park police. Saturday night as he was driving north on Michigan avenue he was halted between 37th and 38th streets by two young men, he said, who asked a ride down town.

At the point of a revolver they forced him to drive on up north. In the 4100 block on Sheridan road, he said, they slugged him, dragged him into the back seat of his car and started for Milwaukee. Yesterday the party got back—they had been on the road continuously, Wakefield explained.

At Loyola and Sheridan road the bandits forced him from the car, took all his money and left him.

J. A. Arnold, 6142 South Artesian avenue, early this morning was robbed of his automobile, $200 in cash, and $700 worth of jewelry.

$1,000 in Saloon Holdup.

Other crimes reported in the past twenty-four hours were mainly hold-ups.

"We need $30,000 to free a man who is to be electrocuted in Ohio state penitentiary," said three bandits who took $1,000 from six patrons in the saloon of Winthrop & Ballo, 3400 West North avenue.

Four men, posing as United States agents, induced Charles Martinus to open the safe in his saloon at 3845 Park avenue. They took therefrom $110.

Two men robbed Lawrence Christopher in his restaurant, 22 East 39th street, and three Negroes took $300 from Harry Omman, fruit dealer, 228 East 51st street.

Frank Prohaska, 2215 West 19th street, got two blocks into a box. Five men took it from him.

Michael Providence, 649 North St. Louis avenue, fought two bandits and was beaten about the head with revolvers.

Forty shots were fired between a lone bandit and a squad of policemen from the North Robey street station at Irving Park boulevard and Ravenswood avenue last night. The bandit had just held up the delicatessen store of Edward Kute, 1911 Irving Park boulevard, obtaining $75. He escaped.

George Boland, 25 years old, 2516 South Canal street, a gas inspector, was shot and seriously wounded by an unidentified assailant last night as he was walking in Princeton avenue between 28th and 30th streets.

Fereta had a stepdaughter. She married Edward Perry, 1510 Center avenue, Perry and his two brothers, Joe and John, are wanted for the shootings. After the marriage there was a dispute between Fereta and his stepdaughter's husband over the payment of some money due to Perry.

INSTALLMENT XXXVII.

THE STORM BREAKS.

About twenty minutes later a red faced, middle aged gentleman with the frayed remains of a good cigar held between trembling fingers, canopied into the drawing room. He was breathing so hard that speech burst from his lips in a series of explosions. To begin with, he shook his fist in Ted's direction, which caused that unhappy wretch to duck instinctively.

"You—you deceitful, double dyed scoundrel! I'll have it out of your hide. We'll see how far you can carry your innocent, childish pranks and go scot free. O, we'll see about that! Amber river, eh? Letting that fool of a girl—enticing her to the shipyards, where neither of you ever had any business to be, to fall in love—love, bah!—with a common workman! Gad, I'll teach you a thing or two."

He cast the wreck of his cigar into the grate and made a motion of rolling up his sleeve as if he meant to strike.

Ted rose, his face like paper, his arms held rigidly. He had deserved this and he knew it.

Doria gave vent to a shriek and hurled herself at Drake, beating his chest with her doubled fists.

"Don't you dare touch him! Ronny, Ronny, don't let Martin touch Ted."

This intimate appeal to Ronald escaped both the young people in the horrible excitement of the moment. Crystal's eyes were like glittering, angry stars.

"It isn't Ted's fault," she said, with a surprising effect of calmness. "You have no right to blame him, Uncle Martin."

In the name of fortune, what on earth is it all about?" Ronald asked.

Ted turned to him as to one who might possibly have the sense to understand that it was all about pretty much of nothing.

"Old Andrew and Crystal want to marry each other. For the life of me I can't see why they shouldn't."

"Shut up! Nobody wants your opinion," stormed Drake. Doria fell back a step, the danger of an immediate assault upon her son having passed.

"Crystal," he cried.

"O, you needn't all act as though I'd done something criminal," Crystal retorted. Her voice was hard and a little flat. "I do care for Andrew, and he cares for me. We are going to be married. Nothing can stop us. Nothing. I hope that's clear. Nobody needs to tell me what I already know, but I could tell you a lot. Andrew's fine and—clean and splendid."

"Clean!" snorted Drake. "Takes his bath every Saturday night, I suppose. O, yes, I daresay he's clean enough."

MATCHES FATAL TO CHILD.

ARREST FOUR WOMEN IN RAID.

Nine men and four women were taken in a raid by police on an alleged disorderly house at 733 North La Salle street early yesterday. Frank Perry was booked as keeper.

DERICK CRUSHES MAN.

Vincent Biesack, 31 years old, 1409 Noble street, died yesterday of a fractured skull received Oct. 28 when the steel tongue of a hoisting derrick fell on him.

MAYOR ASSERTS HE'LL REPLY TO CROWE CHARGES

Hasn't Had Time to Investigate, He Says.

"I am not ready to make a statement," said Mayor Thompson yesterday when asked whether he considered State's Attorney Crowe's statement of Saturday as indicative of a severance of his city hall political affiliations.

Chief Fitzmorris likewise had no reply to make to the 4,000 word statement of the state's attorney covering his war on protected vice and gambling.

Chief at His Office.

The chief was at his office early, but stated he had not yet read Crowe's published statement and that he would be busy all day supervising arrangements for the parade in honor of Marshal Foch.

Politicians read in the state's attorney's statement an ultimatum to the mayor. It is the general view that he has gone so far that unless he will not be sustained by the mayor he will cut his political ties and become an independent in Republican politics.

It also is said that unless the mayor possesses remarkable diplomatic powers he will be unable to heal the breach in his official family and must choose between the political support and the friendship of the state's attorney's office and the services of his chief of police, who has been highly commended by civic societies for his efficiency in suppressing crime.

Crowe's Ultimatum Unanswered.

Crowe demanded that Fitzmorris publicly apologize for his remark that "ulterior motives" were back of raids by the state's attorney's police and that he rescind all his orders pertaining to the forty policemen assigned to the north side. Fitzmorris has so far done neither, nor said that he will or will not do so.

Not receiving a reply to a letter he addressed to the mayor, Crowe has said he will not jeopardize the positions of his policemen by using them in raids. Fitzmorris' ultimatum that they must obtain convictions within thirty days or face the trial board is an impossible condition. Crowe said he is making arrangements to replace the policemen with deputy sheriffs.

In the absence of an indication by the mayor as to whom he will support, the test of strength will come Wednesday before the civil service commission. Sergt. Tom O'Malley, in charge of the state's attorney's police, who was suspended for obeying the orders of Mr. Crowe in preventing the release of Chief Fitzmorris, will be tried. He will be represented personally by Crowe.

Problem for Trial Board.

The trial board is composed of two Republicans, appointed by Mayor Thompson, and one Democrat. They must elect an upholder of the chief, or appoint one, or take sides with State's Attorney Crowe, who was elected by the Thompson forces.

Chief Fitzmorris has always had the support of the trial board, who upon making the appointment said there were no strings attached to him. Unless he is now supported by the two civil service commissioners appointed by the mayor it is rumored he will resign.

Club Women to Attend Forest Preserve Art Show

Several large groups from women's clubs, and other organizations will attend the art show at the Forest Preserve building this week to view the notable collection of oil paintings depicting scenes in the forest preserve district, the work of members of the Chicago Society of Artists. The public is invited to attend the exhibit, which will end Nov. 17.

FARM AND GARDEN

FORCING VEGETABLES IN WINTER CELLAR GARDEN.

One of the most disappointing days in the year for some gardeners is when they have to scrape off their noses and spades and other garden tools and lay them away for the winter. Some have found an excellent substitute for the exercise they got in the outdoor garden, and are now running a vegetable garden in their cellars in winter. Suburbanites who are unable to have their form of indoor gardening interesting and profitable.

Several varieties of common vegetables can be grown out of season in the cellar, including asparagus, rhubarb, cauliflower, and sea kale. Dandelion is sometimes grown in the cellar for winter greens. It is easy to start these vegetables by digging them up from your own summer garden. Seed stores sometimes carry the root.

Rhubarb is easily forced in a cellar. Split the clumps, leaving one-half in the ground and take the other half to the cellar and force it. The clumps to be forced should be allowed to freeze before it is taken to the cellar. Dig up the roots that are to be forced and lay them in rows out of doors, where they will freeze solid and keep them frozen until they are started in the cellar.

Plant the roots of rhubarb close together in a box of earth in the cellar, water enough to keep them growing freely, and keep the box in a dark place. Rhubarb does not force well until after the first of the year, but the roots should be dug before the ground freezes hard.

Asparagus may be forced any time during the winter. Use only crowns that are three years old, and hardened in the same way as rhubarb. Splitting the asparagus roots and freezing them before planting should be omitted. Sea kale and cauliflower are handled in the same way. Keep sea kale in the dark. Leek may also be forced in the cellar, and Brussels sprouts that have not reached full size in the fall may be dug up and forced to harvesting size in boxes.

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—lazy, you feel—no energy—take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—A substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study. They are a vegetable compound made of pure vegetable oil and vegetable salts. A purely vegetable compound made in a vegetable oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, plump cheeks, feeling like a baby in childhood days, you must get rid of the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are in the liver and bowels like calomel—have a drastic effect—do not hurt.

They start the bile and cleanse the system. Take one or two tablets and note the pleasant results.

Senate conferees on the bill named as follows: Penrose, Macomber, and Smoot, Republicans; Sinclair and Williams, Democrats. The bill is to be reported to the house Wednesday. Republican leaders plan on Friday to send it to the conference.
As now drawn the bill is estimated by treasury experts to yield approximately $3,250,000,000 for the fiscal year ending next June 30, or $200,000,000 more than the existing law. If the changes proposed become effective, however, the measure ultimately will reduce the nation's tax bill by approximately $750,000,000.

Provisions in Senate Bill.
The revenue bill as passed relates to the excess profits tax, effective January 1, 1922, and substitutes a flat tax on corporate earnings amounting to 12 1/2 per cent. The bill as passed by the senate imposed a flat tax of 12 1/2 per cent on the earnings of corporations.
The $1,000 exemption for corporations will not apply if earnings exceed $25,000.

The corporation capital stock tax was refined in both house and senate with a flat tax of $1 per $1,000 of stock.
No change has been made in the present normal tax rates on individual incomes of 4 per cent on net income of less than $4,000 and 8 per cent on net income above $4,000 in either house or senate bills. Exemption for heads of families with incomes of less than $5,000 have been increased from $2,000 to $2,500 and the exemption dependents have been increased from $100 to $400.

New Scale of Surtax Rates.
The senate bill provides a new scale of surtax rates with a maximum of 50 per cent on income above $200,000.
Instead of a maximum of 65 per cent on the portion of income above $1,000 in the present law, and a maximum of 25 per cent on incomes above $50,000 in the house bill.

Surtax rates start with income above $4,000 in the senate bill and of $5,000 in the present law and the rates in the lower brackets have been decreased.

All transportation taxes are repealed effective Jan. 1, 1922. In both house and senate bills; also the passport tax. A number of miscellaneous taxes are repealed, including those on sporting goods, proprietary medicine and moving picture films. The car-tax is cut from 5 to 3 per cent.
Luxury taxes which now apply to specified goods sold at retail at certain amounts have been repealed and substitute taxes applying on manufacturer imposed.

Soft Drink Tax Repealed.
A tax is imposed on fountain and carbonated water as a substitute for the present retail soft drink tax which are repealed. Taxes of 30 cents a gallon are imposed on beer, $1.25 on wine, and $6.40 on whisky.

No change is made in tobacco tax provided by the present law.
In the case of tax on estates rates on estates in excess of $15,000 are increased, a maximum rate of 50 per cent applying on estates above
$100,000,000, the present maximum being 25 per cent above $15,000,000.
It is estimated that the bill as passed by the senate will yield about $2,000,000,000 during the fiscal year 1922, or $1,725,000,000 during the fiscal year 1923.

Amendments Rejected.
The long evening's consideration of the measure included a reversal of the action of the senate in October, striking out the amendment by Senator Lodge permitting holding companies, in computing capital stock, to deduct the capital stock tax paid by subsidiary companies. The vote was close, 32 to 31.
The senate also struck out the amendment providing a capital stock tax of $2 a thousand on all stock in excess of $2,000,000. The
